Jackson Hole has plenty of mellow corduroy as well as bowls, cliffs and adrenaline pumping steps. They have an annual snowfall of 459", making it one of the premier powder places. Jackson Hole is a mountain for skiers of all abilities and not just for experts anymore. No other ski resort has 4,139' of continuous vertical rise, two neighboring national parks, 8000 grazing elk (which can actually be seen while skiing on several trails) and the authentic western flavor. You will find hundreds of miles of remarkable runs, exhilarating views and unexpected pleasures at every turn- on and off the mountain. The tram will take you to the top in 7 minutes. The Bridger gondola takes you to the base of Headwall in 7 ½ minutes. Powder snow, breathtaking views, un-crowded slopes and wild western fun, puts this trip at the top of your "must do" list. Anyone interested in a side trip to ski Grand Targhee, a snowmobile ride at Yellowstone National Park or how about a sleigh ride to see the elk herds?
