FALL LINE

POWDER EXPRESS

Winter Park – Spring Skiing Just the Way That It Should be...

By Jeff Stein

It was Thursday, April 4, 2013, when a group of Fall Liners gathered at Philadelphia International Airport to begin what has become an annual spring ski encampment to the 3,000 acre ski park better know as Colorado's Winter Park Resort. This year's encampment was joined by the King of Prussia Ski Club and totaled 34 die-hard skiers. Our group included both the "regulars" and some new faces. All were excited over an opportunity to suck out just four more days on the boards before calling it a year and packing them away.

Spring in Philadelphia, But What Would Await in the West?

As we wore different pieces of our ski clothing into the airplane and left some rather mild spring temps in Philadelphia, the Southwest cabin crew was working the cabin in shorts. Nonetheless, we left the gate just before 7:00 PM and were greeted by rush hour on the tarmac. A quick glance out of the window indicated that there were at least eight other big birds waiting to depart. It didn't really matter, we were on vacation and this was a situation not in our control so, we just sat back and relaxed.

Finally, by 7:30 PM, we were airborne and banking to the west. Looking out into the horizon one could catch the brilliant shadows of a setting sun as we were pushing nature's clock back two hours. It was just around 9:30 PM (MTN) that we arrived at Denver International. After the usual luggage delays, we collected our belongings and loaded into the bus for our ride to Winter Park. Our trip to Colorado would not be complete without that usual food stop at the 24-hour grocery store. The group bought the creature-comfort foods and drinks that would keep them happy for our four-day skiing encampment at the Park.

Our late season trip was starting to resemble that of a jumbo New England trip as it was now after 1:30 AM when the parking brake was pulled and we unloaded at Winter Park's Vintage Hotel. This year's trip was slightly different for the regulars compared to past years of lodging in downtown Winter Park. Now we were just a hop to the lifts via the Village Cabriolet open-air lift.

Spring at the Park

Running a bit light on sleep, the group awoke to spring skiing conditions and a threat of rain. Once we went out there, what we found was a medley of conditions ranging from packed ice to mashed potatoes. But for day #1 the threatening rain did not prevail and it was a good ski day.

Friday evening, we were treated to a welcome reception hosted by the mountain. Over lots of wine, beer and cheese we were introduced to the activities and optional amenities available at Winter Park.

Changing Weather

Later Friday evening there was huge change in the weather as the day's mild temperatures and clear skies quickly became cooler and stormy. It produced a nice dump of snow for us to test out on Saturday. The new snow restored one's belief in the benefits of spring skiing

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By MICHELE LECONEY

As new president, I would like to take this opportunity to thank Kathie Read for all of her hard work and dedication this past year. Congratulations to all those elected to this year's board including our newest additions: President-Elect Ralph Perrino, Secretary Chris Vitale and Treasurer-Elect Deb Taraska. I would also like to welcome Sara Walls and Janice West as board members and welcome back the returning board members from last year.

Spring has finally arrived and as we close the chapter on one ski season, it's time to think about and plan our next adventures. The Winter Trip Committee has worked very hard in selecting the destinations for the 2013-2014 ski trips and did not disappoint. Week long trips for the 2013-2014 season include: Snowbird/Alta, Utah; Saalbach-Hinterglemm and Vienna; Jackson Hole, Wyoming; Red Mountain, BC, Canada and Vail, Colorado. Opening night is July 16th at our new meeting location....The Pennsauken Country Club.

Nona Luce and the Social Activities Committee have numerous "non-skiing" events planned for the upcoming months. Please take a look at the social calendar and come out and get to know your fellow Fall Liner's off of the slopes. Also, if you have ideas or want to get involved, the Social Committee is a great way to share your ideas and meet new friends.

"We are only as strong as we are united, as weak as we are divided." - J.K. Rowling

I encourage all members, old and new, to participate and get involved with the club. If you've been away from the club, come on back and get to know us again.

Cheers!
Michele

Want to taste a “really good array of different wines” from the state of New Jersey? Join the Fall Line group heading to Gloucester County NJ for the Washington Township Lake Park Wine Festival on June 22nd.

Currently, Amalthea Cellars, Auburn Road Vineyards, Bellview Winery, Cedarvale Winery, Chestnut Run Farm, Coda Rossa Winery, DiBella Winery, DiMatteo Vineyards, Heritage Vineyards, Monroeville Vineyard, Plagido’s Winery, Renault Winery, Sharrott Winery, Silvery Decoy Winery, Tomasello Winery and Wagonhouse Winery have all signed up to offer their goods during the festival. The participating wineries will sell bottles and cases during the festival, and have arranged a delivery service to bring purchases directly to cars as they exit the park for the day.

The festival also will have local food vendors, crafts, live music and retail vendors selling wine-related items, like one-of-a-kind furniture built from wooden wine barrels. Anyone wanting to pop a bottle in the park and relax and listen to the live music can do so.

Tickets are on-your-own and are on sale now on the website www.newjerseywineevents.com. Just look for the Washington Lake Park Wine Festival and purchase your tickets at that site. Tickets for adults 21 and over will be $15 in advance and $20 at the gate. The ticket includes a souvenir wine glass and access to all day sampling.

The address is 626 Hurffville-Cross Keys Road in Sewell, NJ. The event runs from 12 noon until 5pm. We are meeting in the parking lot at 11:30am so we can enter as a group and all sit together. Bring your bag chairs, a cooler and some snacks to share so we can make a day of it. Contact Ralph and Nancy Perrino at xsparks58@comcast.net prior to the event so we know how many people are joining our group. If you are coming later than 11:30, call our cell at 856-655-3397 so we can let you know where we are sitting.

ATCO TO MARGATE BIKE RIDE 2013

BY JOHN KENNEDY

Mark June 8 on your calendar as Fall Line makes its annual trek to the shore. This is a leisurely ride to Maynard's Café, at 9306 Amherst Ave, in Margate, NJ. We've been doing this forever, although the starting and finishing locations have changed, as has the route, the stops and the people who make the ride but, OTHER THAN THAT, it hasn't changed. It's still about 55 miles, it's still a great training ride for those contemplating the ACS and MS-150 rides later in the summer, and it's still not a race. (Did I mention this was a leisurely ride, average speed is 12-15 mph.) We start at the NJ Transit station in Atco. The parking lot is off of the north-lanes of Route 73. We begin to around 8 AM for an 8:30 departure. The route goes out Jackson Road, down 206, into Hammonton, through scenic Mays Landing past Lake Lenape, Egg Harbor Township, Somers Point, and crosses 2 bridges into Longport before the final push up to Margate. Along the way, we'll stop for breakfast in Hammonton, a quick beverage at Testa's in Mays Landing and maybe a stop at Dairy Queen in Somers Point. Maps are provided. We hope to have a support vehicle (calling John Steel!! We would be delighted with your presence once again!) for those who decide to take the easy way down. I will ask for a donation from the cyclists to compensate our support drivers for backing us up.

For the trip home, we continue biking up to the Atlantic City rail station at the Convention Center. Cost to return to Atco with your bike is about $5.00. The trip is asphalt all the way, although most of the riding will be on the shoulders so it may not be all that smooth. I'd like a head count, so if you're interested, please dust off your bikes, pump your tires, and e-mail me at johnkenedy0880@comcast.net and that even in April you could still count on Colorado delivering the white stuff.

Complemented with a blue sky, the bright morning sun and fresh snow created a skiing experience on Saturday that was much different from Friday's calm temps and spring conditions.

We were now cruising in fresh Colorado powder. It was a bit of a mental adjustment for the conditions, but our group of diehard skiers knew just how to sit back and enjoy it.

Sunday's Weather Buffet

Sunday was one those days that would surely offer something for everyone. Our morning was greeted with another fresh coat of snow. The seesaw weather pattern included clouds changing to sun, snow showers, hail, more snow, clouds, and the closing act was more sun. Luckily, the threatening dark clouds of rain fizzled out in favor of the snow. Over on the bumps and groomers, the conditions were excellent for early April. With the fresh snow, even in the afternoon our group was finding untracked trails. With these conditions our belief in the benefits of skiing in the spring were restored.

Party Time at the Brew House

On Sunday evening both the Fall Liners and King of Prussia folks convened at downtown Winter Park's Library Sports Grille & Brewery for food, drinks and conversation. A covered-up pool table working as the pizza serving station looked more like a throw back to the TV Land days of the old Beverly Hillbillies show.

In addition to discussions about the fresh snow and great spring skiing were conversations about a pending blizzard doomed to hit the Denver area just in time for our early morning Tuesday departure. The blizzard was threatening the area with 12" of snow and a temperature drop of over 40 degrees for a Tuesday high temp of only 19 degrees. For the next few days weather forecasters were predicting a noticeable blast of February weather into the Colorado area.

Squeaking By....Maybe

On Monday, with a pending mountain storm, it appeared that we would be lucky to get in at least ¾ of a good ski day. In addition to the predicted Colorado Blizzard was a more immediate warning for afternoon thunderstorms. Hey, when you are playing on 12,000' peaks weather swings tend to be the norm. But, aside from some very dark skies and winds, the thunderstorms fizzled and the ski diehards were able to pack-in an excellent day with the final run for the season at 4:00 PM. And for the records, the skiing this spring at the Park was anything but shabby.

A Change of Travel Plans

As we were packing up to get out of Winter Park and Denver, Monday evening the storm was blowing in with high winds snow and ice. By 7:00 PM we were seeing mass cancellations of Tuesday flights out of Denver. Ultimately our morning flight was canceled and we were re-booked for the evening. But our delayed departure did not mean that we would have a bit more ski time on Tuesday.

Traveling The Slick Pass on April 9

Time to Kill

Although we were now suppose to fly out in the evening, due to the weather and road conditions, our Tuesday pickup time stayed the same. As the light was starting to come up, with the winds, snow, and a 19 degree April temperature, it was around 6:15 AM that we left Winter Park and started making our way through a snowy and slick 11,000' Berthoud Pass en route to Denver.

The route along the interstate was flanked with spin-outs, fender benders and bumper-to-bumper traffic that made a Philadelphia rush hour look like a walk in the park. But who was in a rush? Not us. The delays were actually welcomed considering that we would have less time to kill sitting around at the airport.

Just before 9:00 AM, and in the midst of this April blizzard, we arrived at Denver International and a bit wet, we unloaded the bus and hauled our luggage to the Southwest check-in counter. That was when we learned about the "Four-hour Rule." Although we were able to check-in, our bags had to wait until 3:00 PM (four hours prior to departure). Fortunately, Southwest was able to re-re-book the entire group for a 1:00 PM flight that would get us into Philadelphia around 7:30 PM. And, we would now need to wait less than 60 minutes to get those bags checked in. In the midst of the huge spring storm, it was starting to look a bit brighter on the horizon for this group of travelers.

Back to the Tropics & A Birthday in the Air

We boarded close to on time and really didn't mind the 60 minute "de-ice delay" because we were heading home and leaving a wintry 19 degrees for the Philly tropics and 85 degrees. A bit before our 8:00 PM touch-down in the Philly tropics, the Southwest cabin crew was given word that this was a birthday day for one of our Fall Liners. It was difficult to tell if our birthday boy was pleased or just embarrassed as the cabin lights were dimmed, the call lights went on to make candles, and about 150 seat buddies sang happy birthday. In addition to the makeshift cake (using rolls of toilet paper), the birthday boy also received and had to wear the Southwest crown. This was one birthday that he won't forget.

The Bottom Line...

The bottom line on this spring trip is that one should never underestimate the potential of spring skiing out west. If you missed it this time, you really missed it. For this lucky group of Fall Liners there was plenty of winter at the Park this April.

CIRQUE DU SOLEIL TOTEM IS COMING TO THE CAMDEN WATERFRONT UNDER THE GRAND CHAPITEAU!!

Fall Line is planning a trip to the circus (the Cirque). . . right here in Camden, NJ. If you've always loved the circus and have or have not yet seen any Cirque du Soleil shows, make your reservations for a seat at one of the "greatest shows on earth!" Be moved by the splendor of the sound/music, lighting and unbelievable acts (by people... no animals!) of Cirque du Soleil! THE SHOW:TOTEM traces the fascinating journey of the human species from its original amphibian state to its ultimate desire to fly. The characters evolve on a stage evoking a giant turtle, the symbol of origin for many ancient civilizations. Inspired by many founding myths, TOTEM illustrates, through a visual and acrobatic language, the evolutionary progress of species. Somewhere between science and legend TOTEM explores the ties that bind Man to other species, his dreams and his infinite potential.

WHAT THE MEDIA SAY ABOUT THE SHOW:

Cirque du Soleil steals your heart." "Forget reality and let this magical world full of spectacular acts enchant you."IMPORTANT: We've already purchased 34 tickets, so if you want to purchase a ticket(s) through FLSC for you they will not be at the group rate unless there are at least 12 more people ordering.

CONTACT PERSON and PAYMENT INFORMATION:

Please contact Marianne Sladzinsk by phone (home: 856-874-1747) or email (msdelphi136@gmail.com) no later than May 31 if you want to purchasetickets for this Cirque du Soleil show or would like more information. Marianne will do her best to get you tickets near those seats previously purchased. Seating may be limited at this time."

Here's to a FANTASTIC FLSC group and show!!
