Copper Mountain recap- January 2010

By Bill Roehner

What a trip! If you were lucky enough to go on the Copper Mountain trip you know exactly what I mean. On January 9th, thirty one Fall Liners were heading to Copper Colorado looking for a ski adventure. The plane departed on schedule and, if you can believe it, landed one hour ahead of schedule (no headwinds, go figure). What a way to start the trip, we are going to be early! Sure enough we landed ahead of schedule, and then we had to wait for our luggage to arrive, putting us right back on schedule. The group jumped on a bus, stopped for groceries and refreshments and made it to Copper's Center Village on schedule. The bus was unloaded, luggage put in storage, and we waited for our condos to become available. With the exception of a broken door and a couple pieces of luggage and groceries delivered to the wrong place the Fall Liners were ready to ski and party. The accommodations were very nice but some people had to adjust to the fact that there were no dressers in the bed rooms and no soap dishes in the showers.

On the first night, the Eagles played their first (and last) round playoff game against Dallas, so I reserved tables to seat 25 at Incline Bar. Many of us thought we were going to watch the Eagles beat Dallas. Yeah, as you know that didn't happen but the first quarter was exciting. Out of 31 Fall Liners on the trip, 28 showed up for the game, it was a great showing and a good indicator that this was going to be a fun and friendly group.

On Sunday we hit the slopes, most of the front mountain was open with hard packed conditions and the back bowls were closed. Even with mediocre snow conditions, it was a great day - bright blue skies, sunshine and comfortable temperatures. You cannot complain about that! Our ski ticket included a "Superbee" pass which meant we were able to go through special electronic gates and jump any long lift lines. This really came in handy on the weekend and it was nice to be treated like a VIP. For Happy Hour, the group met at either Incline or Jack's to share the adventures of the day. By Wednesday the band 'Lefty Lucy' started playing at Jack's so the group of Fall Liners gravitated to Jack's every day for après ski. 'Lefty Lucy' would get people dancing on the bar and on the floor for the more timid. I am not sure how many "shot skies" our club members did, but I know one evening there were at least four groups that got up on the bar. When the "shot skies" were being done, the lead singer would get the entire bar involved with a loud count down 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, and down they went!

Fall Line has a reputation of being a partying club and I have to say that Bob Miller did his part in keeping that statement true. He made his mark on the Copper Village almost every night, one night closing Jack's, then closing Incline, than proceeding to Mulligan's. I am not sure if he closed down Mulligan's, but it doesn't matter. He also did a solo dance on top of the bar to Mustang Sallie that was quite memorable. Thanks to Bob for keeping FLSC's reputation intact!

Dennis, Ann, Russ and Janice hit the condo lottery landing the best and largest condo on the trip that was also ski in/ski out. It was the

Are you game?

This year's Spring Fling is not your same old Spring Fling. There will be games, door prizes and yes food and dancing. Be sure to hold the date for Saturday April 24th at Cater 2 U since there will be limited number of tickets sold. More details will follow.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Beth's BS (Big Snow) Update!

Hi , It is time to confuse the membership of Fall Line! As you know, I was elected to be the club's President for the 2009-2010 year. Due to being called up to serve in Iraq with my Air Force Reserve unit, I gave up my Presidency to Ken Heath who did an awesome job while I was away. Thanks Ken. We all appreciate it. Now that I am back however, I have been reassigned my role as President, with Ken as my President Elect. I am certain he will do a great job next year as your President. What Ken can really use however, are club members who are willing to step up and volunteer to serve the club in a board position. Our club can only survive and thrive with individuals that are willing to serve the club in a volunteer position. This coming year we will have board positions available, as well as a need for individuals to run trips and greet potential new members at our meetings. Will you be that individual? Please consider volunteering for your club. If you are interested, please let one of the board members know and they will be more than happy to sign you on!

Please attend our next general meeting at PJ Whelians, on Route 70 in Cherry Hill, NJ. The informal meeting/social event, starts at 8:00 PM in the back bar area, and are the first and third Tuesday of every month. Come meet with other Fall Liners, and learn about some of our great events we have planned, such as Dragon Boat racing, Kayak trips and of course Happy Hours.

I look forward to seeing you all soon.

Beth Eilers

perfect place to have the group parties and they were nice enough to volunteer their condo. We had two parties; the pizza party on Tuesday and the 'leftover' party on Friday. The pizza party was a great success with almost everyone showing up, turning it into a great social event where everyone got to meet each other.

At the pizza party we conducted a how to "turn on the bathroom shower" contest. The rules were simple, turn on the shower within 30 seconds for a chance to win the grand prize. A number of people figured out the tricky shower, so the winner was decided by a drawing, Bob came through victorious. Congratulations to Bob who walked away with a Copper pin and all the bragging rights. I know you are asking yourself, what could be so difficult about turning on a shower? Let me give you a hint in case you find yourself in the same predicament. The trick was to pull down on a ring around the opening of the facet spout. Only 5 people got it right and a couple of them had seen it before.

At the pizza party, Dennis and Harry compared notes to decide "who is the oldest Fall Line member on the Copper trip"? Congrats to Harry at 78 years young!!! The "left over party" had a good showing considering everyone was winding down and getting ready to end this trip. Thanks again to Dennis, Ann, Russ and Janice for opening their condo to 32 people and hosting both parties.

Due to altitude sickness a couple of Fall Liners were forced to detour to St. Anthony's clinic (which was about 100 yards from the main condos) to fill their lungs with some pure "Rocky Mountain" oxygen. The clinic actually delivered oxygen tanks right to their condo (how hospitable is that??) which leads me to one of the best stories of the trip. When one of the recovering members, Sally (yes, her name has been changed to protect the innocent), after catching her breath, literally, she settled back to prepare a traditional cook-in night (spaghetti and gravy, of course). She searched through the kitchen looking for appropriate cooking materials and utensils, but OMG...she doesn't have a pot big enough to hold all that tomato sauce. That morning Sally called Housekeeping and told them that she had an unusual request, towels and a big sauce pot. While her condo mates were getting ready for skiing, there comes a knock at the door. (knock, knock) Mindy opens the door to find a young, nice-looking, tall male standing there with towels and a walkie-talkie in his hand. Mindy gets the towels and Sally yells, "WAIT, WAIT" (she has a tip prepared for the good looking Copper employee) and runs to the door with the enthusiasm of a happy cook. Then she asks, "Do you have the POT?"

The guy responds with a halting look in his face, "NO, BUT I DO HAVE A COUPLE OF COLD BEERS". Sally had no idea what he meant (remember, she was still a little light headed). Mindy immediately explained that the request was for a pot to cook tomato sauce. Without a blink, the tall Copper guy presses the walkie-talkie and contacts his manager who then explains that someone else was on his way with the "pot". Another knock and another Copper guy (Joe) was standing at the door with a smile on his face and the real "pot" in his hand. Mindy is hysterically recanting the events of the morning's misunderstanding to her friend in the elevator, thinking this was their own little private joke. Joe, the second Copper guy was in the same elevator and reveals to the girls that, in fact, the first Copper guy actually thought Sally was soliciting drugs. He said the whole Copper staff heard about it and was reeling with laughter. Next time, Sally will be packing pots instead of skies to prevent having to solicit "pot" again!!!

We had six new Fall Line members on this trip who felt a little skeptical at first about going on a trip without knowing anyone. They were welcomed with true Fall Line hospitality and after a few refreshments the new members fit in perfectly with the group. The new members met many new friends, and had a great experience. I think FLSC now has six new members that will renew their membership every year.

This has been one of the best party groups that Copper Mountain has ever seen. There were many memorable events: the "cowboy gang", a broken ankle due to a macho move, two parties, dancing on the bar, new friendships, and (most important to me) lots of fun and NO complaints. This trip was the first that I ran, thanks to everyone that helped to make this a big success. With a special thanks to Wayne, Ken, Ann, Kathie and Melanie. I could not have asked for a better group and a better trip. If you want to see pictures of the trip, go to the Fall Line website.

DRAGON BOAT 2010

By Mike Gramsammer & Marie Eagan

Paddles Ready...Ready Ready...

Some of you know those words, some don't, but are curious, sooo, you are all invited to join the 2010 FLSC Dragon Boat Team. Dragon boats are flat water racing canoes propelled by a crew of 20 paddlers, plus a drummer, and a steersperson. Teamwork is everything in Dragon Boat racing. For the 6th consecutive year, Fall Line is putting a team together, expecting to have fun and enjoy the experience.

Here is a brief description of our 2010 boating season. Fall Line will be entering 2 racing Festivals this year. The first will be the Independence Regatta on June 5th in Philly. The second is The Philadelphia International Festival on October 2nd. We will also be having 2 charity events at Uno's Grill in Maple Shade, N.J. on March 22nd and Sept. 20th to raise money for our chosen charity, Fox Chase Cancer Center.

What else is included, you may ask? Well, how about 7 months of being outside on the river, Two day-long, fun-filled races, 2 great riverside BBQ'S, multiple team Happy Hours, and possibly, a Team Fall Line tee shirt.

Details will be forth-coming, as soon as the festival registrations are complete. Here is the current contact information:

The Team Coach/ Captain is Mike Gramsammer- 856-810-1196

The Team Co-Captains are Marie Eagan- 609-605-1332 & Steve Archibald- 609-238-1362. The cost to paddle will be between $100-$200, depending on whether one or both races, BBQ's and if we get some organizations to sponsor us (why don't you or your company consider sponsoring us?). Look for us at FLSC General Meetings, starting in March.
